Historical european Reproductions for Home & Garden

Welcome Fellow Europhile.

In a European summer, the ripe ambiance of indoor living is brought outdoors and vice versa. This time of year, when your garden is at its peak, be sure to set it off with Toscano's exquisite pieces that add just the right touch to any outdoor living. So - even if it's only in your imagination - follow the European lead and take a month-long holiday of the spirit. Enjoy the fruits of all your labors by welcoming the beauty of Toscano into your home and garden. We'll be doing the same...

FEATURED THIS MONTH:

Screaming Simon is letting it all out! You'll recognize it right away - the expression that says you've had enough!!!

These high-style artisan crafted Mosquitos are the latest buzz in garden art.

Mademoiselle Modele's lithesome silhouette presents a vision of beauty.

The Murabella: The "Beautiful Wall" Fountain. The crowning touch to an entryway or courtyard.

Venus of Milo

Ancient status of Aphrodite, now in Paris at the Louvre; carved by a sculptor of Antioch on the Maeander River in 150 BC, it was found on Melos in 1820. The general composition derives from 4th-century Corinthian status. The action and modernized drapery give the Venus great nobility. The status is a conspicuous example of the Hellenistic sculptural tradition's academic traits and close reliance on older masterpieces.
